

BONALDO

Skipping

Skipping is a swivel stool that adjusts in height thanks to a robust piston mechanism. Available with upholstery in eco-leather, leather or emery-leather, it is particularly comfortable thanks to the sinuous shapes of the seat, with cold foamed polyurethane padding. The structure and the footrest are made of chrome-plated steel or satin finish chrome-plated steel. With its understated, curvilinear but minimalist line, which echoes that of the Skip chair, also designed by Karim Rashid, Skipping is welcoming and comfortable and integrates perfectly within original environments, characterised by refined atmospheres. A plastic sign, extremely pure and contemporary: an original and fascinating object that, protagonist of space with its agile and dynamic presence, appears comfortable and inviting even from the first glance.
