Gala

Designer: Mario Mazzer

Gala is a line of furniture for the sleeping area inspired by Salvador Dali's wife and muse, Gala. The collection includes chest of drawers, highboy and bedside table with a sober and clear appearance. The large, rectangular structure elegantly retains the drawers on which a discreet recessed handle is a sophisticated decorative and functional element. The material that characterises Gala is wood: specifically, the warm, reassuring colour of the Canaletto walnut enables these accessories to be incorporated perfectly in numerous stylistic contexts. The base raises the structure from the ground, bestowing momentum and lightness. The Gala bedside tables are made with two heights and it is possible to choose one drawer or two handy drawers.
