

BONALDO

Hoppy

Designer: Giorgio Manzani

Great modernity of its sign and high aesthetic yield of every design detail: Hoppy is a swivel stool, adjustable in height thanks to its piston mechanism. It has a chrome-plated steel structure and a base in chrome-plated satin finish steel; the seat, made of emery leather, is formed by a thin organic and continuous line, and is embellished with black stitching and edges. It is a minimalist piece of furniture, extremely refined, understated but with character, suitable both for private furnishing, to complement the kitchen counter, as well as for use in public environments. Resilient and solid, ergonomic and multifaceted, Hoppy is a versatile element, high in comfort, functionality and beauty, visually effective precisely for its refined simplicity.
