Inno alla flessibilità, il divano Cuba 25 di Rodolfo Dordoni definisce una collezione di elementi lineari, interamente sfoderabili, che raccoglie sedute a due o tre posti in differenti dimensioni, elementi angolari e centrali di diversa profondità e larghezza, moduli terminali e pouf.

Versatili e dal design essenziale, i divani Cuba 25 presentano un'imbottitura in poliuretano espanso, cuscini di seduta in piuma e rivestimenti sfoderabili nei tessuti e pelli di collezione. I cuscini liberi sono forniti nello stesso colore e materiale del divano. Nei rivestimenti in pelle, le cuciture sono declinate in color corda.

A tribute to flexibility, Cuba 25 sofa by Rodolfo Dordoni is part of a collection of linear elements with removable covers, that includes two and three-seaters of various dimensions, corner and central elements, of different depths and widths, end units and poufs.

Versatile with an essential design, the Cuba 25 sofas are padded with polyurethane foam, with feather bottom cushions and fully-removable slip covers in a selection of fabrics and leathers of the collection. Provided with loose pillows in the same colour and material as the sofa. When upholstered in leather, the stitching is rope-coloured.

RODOLFO DORDONI

Rodolfo Dordoni è esponente di quella prolifica corrente milanese che ha partorito Maestri come Castiglioni, Zanuso, Magistretti e de Lucchi. Laureatosi in architettura al Politecnico di Milano, sviluppa un approccio al design industriale multidisciplinare e omnicomprensivo; per Dordoni, l'attenzione del designer deve concentrarsi sul progetto, ma anche e soprattutto sulle strategie che coinvolgono l'immagine del prodotto e le sue possibilità di marketing. Da anni lavora come progettista e consulente per Aziende di alto profilo sia nel campo del design industriale con Artemide e Moroso; per Panasonic e Dolce & Gabbana si è occupato di progettazione d'interni per negozi, showrooms e manifestazioni. Dordoni si dedica a progetti di successo, tra cui la collezione di divani e divani-letto Cuba 25 e la libreria Aliante, realizzata in collaborazione con Giulio Cappellini.

Rodolfo Dordoni is a part of the prolific Milanese creative wave that fostered Masters such as Castiglioni, Zanuso, Magistretti and de Lucchi. After earning his degree in architecture from the Polytechnic University of Milan, he developed a multidisciplinary and holistic approach to industrial design; according to Dordoni, a designer's attention must be focused on the design itself, but also (more importantly) on the strategies for the product's image and marketing possibilities. For years he has worked as a designer and consultant for the top level industrial design companies Artemide and Moroso; for Panasonic and Dolce & Gabbana he has been responsible for the interior design of the shops, showrooms and events. Dordoni dedicates himself to successful projects such as the collection of sofas and sofa beds Cuba 25 and the Aliante bookshelf, made in collaboration with Giulio Cappellini.
